IT RAISES 'EM—Nominators of Clarelyn White say she is extremely fortunate in her genealogy work because her "laugh raises the dead." Among other achievements listed are her habits of flirting with the building workmen so she can get a ride up in the crane, and accepting numerous dates on one night—and managing to go on all of them.

AN IDEAL SNARF—The fact that he never smiles or jokes and delights in the fright of his students, are a few of the characteristics which make Dr. Milton Marshall an ideal candidate for the Snarf title. Voting will be held during the Thursday assembly.

Student Housing in NE Provo Discussed on Radio Program

"THE PEOPLE SPEAK," an open-forum presentation over radio station KOVO Tuesday, featured the present controversy over Brigham Young University student housing in northeast Provo

No decisions were reached, but according to speakers on the forum, the forum may influence forthcoming rulings regarding the area by the city of Provo

HOUSEHOLDERS in the area, who spoke at the forum, stated that a serious difficulty has arisen over the dormant ordinance they seek to enforce The ordinance has been interpreted as limiting each household to four renters in the first-class residential area northeast of campus

The number of student cars in the area cause not only a parking problem, but a more serious problem in regards to children in the street, the householders said

A SUGGESTION was given to limit the renting of rooms to students without cars or to require cars to be parked on campus It met with some approval on the forum

Discussion on the alleged violation of the zoning law began last week when a group of householders sent a delegation to the city council meeting to speak against enforcement, which they had heard was under consideration

AT MONDAY'S Council meeting another householders' delegation protested that the measure should be enforced

The City Council has referred the problem to the planning commission with instructions to report back within two weeks

The ordinance would effect about 20 landlords and 100 students

Campus Enrollment Tabbed Largest of Church Schools

BRIGHAM Young University is the largest of the church related universities and colleges in United States from the standpoint of full time students

This top ranking was awarded BYU in a magazine article by Raymond Walters, president of Cincinnati University in the Dec 10 issue of School and Society

FULL-TIME students at BYU for the autumn quarter 1955, the period under consideration totaled 7 639 These are actual individuals taking more than twelve credit hours, not mathematical equivalents

The next seven schools listed in the article are Roman Catholic St Louis University, Marquette Notre Dame, Boston Purdham Detroit and Georgetown Number nine is Baylor University, a Southern Baptist school and tenth is again Catholic St John s University

FROM THE standpoint of total enrollment including both full-time and part-time students, BYU ranks fourth in all church related colleges in the nation BYU with 8441 students, follows St Louis with 9408, Marquette 9123, and Detroit 9075

In the list of all private schools (church and otherwise) BYU ranks twelfth according to full-time students with 7639 With the exception of Southern California, BYU is the only western school named

HEADING THE list of private schools is New York University with 13 700 followed in order by Columbia Syracuse Harvard Cornell Boston, Southern California Pennsylvania North western Pittsburgh, Miami BYU and Yale

Since 1950, Brigham Young University has increased about 70 per cent About 54 per cent of its students come from outside the state of Utah and represent every state in the union and dozens of foreign countries This upsurge at the LDS school has required a building expansion of around $16 000,000, including extensive campus housing Also the faculty has been increased to 430 and the entire academic organization has been overhauled to meet the needs of the growing studentbody
